Partnerships with civil society are crucial to our work

Civil society partners are “closer” to migrants and build social networks, which is vital for effective protection and assistance of migrants

Civil society is a key partner in capacity building and advocacy efforts to ensure that migrants' needs are met throughout the migration process

Protection, assistance, and reintegration of victims of trafficking. In July 2011, IOM's long-term NGO partner, Revival of the Nation, held a camp for child victims of trafficking and children of adult victims in the Ukraine
