Situation Overview

In the past week, the security situation in Yemen continues to be tense, with a high intensity of airstrikes and ground conflict reported across the country despite the Eid holiday. In Sana'a city, increased air strikes and interruptions to the electricity supply have brought daily life in Sana'a city to a near standstill, according to data collected by OCHA. Moreover, fighting has escalated in Taiz city, leading to insecurity and fuel shortages and is disrupting the distribution of life-saving medical supplies and water.
